

What's up?

These questions might help you think about what's going on for you at the moment. It can sometimes help to talk these questions through with someone else.

